The Consulate General of Mexico in Sacramento is please to inform that tomorrow the Sacramento City Council will vote to formally establish Sacramento and Mexicali as Sister Cities. Sacramento currently has nine other sister cities around the world, and Mexicali will be the first sister city from Mexico.

Similar to Sacramento, Mexicali is the State Capital of Baja California and is home to its State Government's offices. It is located along the northwest border, neighboring California and Arizona. It has a population of approximately one million inhabitants. It is part of a fertile valley, abundant in water. At the same time, Mexicali has quickly become one of the country's leading cities for industrial and aerospace manufacturing, as well as a premier medical tourism destination.

The Mayor of Mexicali, Francisco Pérez de Tejada, together with the Mayor Kevin Johnson, the Vice Mayor Angelique Ashby, and the Consul General of Mexico in Sacramento, Carlos González Gutiérrez, will be present at the ceremony.

U.S. VICE PRESIDENT BIDEN TO VISIT MEXICO

U.S. Vice President Joseph Biden arrives tonight in Mexico City for a working visit, to follow up on the agreements reached by Presidents Enrique Peña Nieto and Barack Obama in May. Both governments share the goal of ensuring that North America remains a region of opportunity and shared prosperity.

Tomorrow, the Vice President will attend the inaugural meeting of the Mexico - U.S. High Level Economic Dialogue, whose goal is to continue forging a closer and more productive economic relationship by adopting a shared vision on strategic issues that directly affect both societies.
